kyyyler world
vol. 1
chrome kink

letter from kyyyler

hi everyone and welcome to kyyyler world! to me kyyyler world is a space in the center of my brain that i constantly visit to find creativity and ultimately feel free. it's an intoxicating state of consciousness i routinely clip in and out of. after every trip, i return feeling better than the last with something new and exciting to share. it's a place where i store my lastest obsessions and hyperfixations that i can't keep to myself anymore. in this quarterly zine, you can experience kyyyler world for yourself. explore everything, from what songs are playing in the clubs to what films everyone is obsessing over. i hope you take something home with you from kyyyler world as you continue to live in and explore your fantasies.

this issue titled "chrome kink" stems from my infactuation with space and the future. i remember first seeing the silver surfer and thought about how beautiful, yet frightening his chrome skin was and envied it. how fluid, pristine, and mesmerizing it looked continues to call to me. other influences like beyonce, thierry mugler, and even spongebob have fueld my chrome kink. seeing, touching, and living in chrome is my ultimate fantasy and i've encapsulated that feeling in this issue.

in kyyyler world, everything and everyone is chrome. i can't wait for you to see it. enjoy...

thank you for visiting kyyyler world. my only wish is that you experienced something new and captivating. through all your sensory stimulation, i hope you felt what it's like to be truly chrome. something otherwordly. something misunderstood. something feared. something beautiful. it can get lonely in kyyyler world, so i'm glad you were able to see it with me.

in future issues, we'll explore more parts of kyyyler world as many parts of it are still undiscovered. until the next time, i'll stay here and prepare it for your return.

a special thank you to everyone who contributed to kyyyler world. especially my friends who i pressure into taking photos of me from every angle. i wouldn't be able to serve without your help
